

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A control device includes a virtual IF set to associate with address information of an interface on a forwarding device and, when detecting that an application section accesses the virtual IF, requests
5 the forwarding device to set a packet transfer rule for transferring a packet received on an interface to the control device while making the packet associate with the virtual IF. The forwarding device sets the packet transfer rule requested by the control device.